Most Noble and Puissant L O R D,

Baron HOWARD of Effingham,

Lieutenant-Colonel of the Second Troop of H O R S E G U A R D S,

Deputy Earl Marshal of ENGLAND.

M Y L O R D,

YOUR Lordship having been pleased to Command me by your Warrant, dated the Twentieth Day of February last, to prove “ the Right of each Per“ son respectively, to the Arms I have “ inserted in my Map of London and “ Mid-

DEDICATION.

"Middlesex, to the Satisfaction of one " of the Kings of Arms ;" I have accordingly done it, and herewith present it to your Lordship, not doubting either of your Lordship's Approbation, or that of the impartial Publick, on whom it is I chiefly depend.

With all Manner of Respect and Sense of Gratitude,

College of Arms,
London, April 29, 1749.

I am,

My LORD,

Your Lordship's most humble,

And most obedient Servant,

JONH WARBURTON, Somerset:

P R E F A C E.

I having been maliciously and unjustly represented, to the Right Honourable the Lord Marshal of England, that the greatest Part of the Five Hundred Coats of Arms, which are engraved on the Borders of my Map of LONDON and MIDDLESEX, (by an actual Survey) were either fictitious, and without Owners, or, otherwise, not the Right of the Persons to whom they are ascribed; his Lordship was pleased to command me, by his
a Warrant,

Warrant, bearing Date the Twentieth Day of February last, “ not to take “ in any Subscriptions for Arms, nor “ advertise, or dispose of any Maps, “ till the Right of each Person re“ spectively to such Arms, be first “ proved to the Satisfaction of one of “ the Kings of Arms, &c.” Which Person’s Partiality being well known to this Author, he thought it best to have another Arbitrator joined with him, and therefore made choice of the impartial Publick, rather than submit his Performance, wholly, to the Determination of a Person, so notoriously remarkable for knowing nothing at all of the Matter.
And he humbly hopes, his Subscribers, and other those worthy and eminent Citizens of this famous Emporium, whose undoubted Right it was to have their Coats of Arms, I and

P R E F A C E. iii

and Memories perpetuated in so useful, and publick a Work, will shew their Approbation of it, by sending to him (at the College of Arms, on St. Bennet's-Hill, near Doctors-Commons) for one Map, and Book, at least, for the Use of their Office and Library ; the Price of the first being Half a Guinea, and of the last Half a Crown.

THIS Favour will, in Part, recompence him for the Expence and Trouble he hath been at, and a grateful and publick Acknowledgment shall hereafter be made ; and such their Gratitude will both enable and encourage him to oppose those bold Insinulators and Slanders, that report Trade and Gentility to be incompatible : A Doctrine only fitting to be preached up in a despotick Government, a 2

vernment, and not amongst a free and independent People.

“ Emperors, formerly, have not “ been ashamed of the Title of Mer- “ chants; and those of London ex“ ceed all others, and do Honour “ to the Name. Kings, and their “ Governments are supported by their “ Means. Nothing is more religious “ to a Merchant than his Promise, “ nothing more sacred than his

It is well known, that the Ci- tizens of London consist chiefly of Descendents from the younger Sons of the best Families in the King- dom. And as the ancientest Arms are the most difficult to be proved, (occasioned by their Evidences being lost or destroyed) it is no Wonder, that that so many of them, at this Time, are necessitated (in Obedience to the Earl Marshal's Authority and Power) to apply for Grants of new Arms; as the Difficulty in joining themselves to their old Family-Stock, (through the Want of Visitations) often proves more expensive to them. I mention this the more particularly, to shew the absolute Necessity there now is, for a Revival of Visitations of Counties, by the Heralds, as of Old: An Affair indeed worthy of the Legislature's Regard, as the Rights of Inheritance, to all Estates, are more or less affected by it. And this Want is at present so great in many Counties, that notwithstanding a Person's Right may be ever so good to the Coat Armour or Genealogy of his Ancestors, it is not possible to make make the same appear to the Satisfaction of any Law, or other judicial Court, by the Register Books of the Heralds-Office.

SOME Counties, particularly Devonshire and Cornwall, have not been visited since the Year One Thousand Six Hundred and Twenty, being near One Hundred and Thirty Years; others not for One Hundred; and the latest not for seventy Years last past; and, in a few Years more, if some speedy Expedient is not found out to prevent it, Time will terminate all Proofs to Family Arms and Pedigrees, and also bury in Oblivion, the Births, Marriages, Issues, and Deaths, of all distinguished Families in the Kingdom; and consequently, their Rights of Inheritance

tance to their Paternal and Maternal Estates.

THE next Thing necessary to be done, for the Benefit of Mankind in general, and the Corporation of *Kings, Herald*s, and Pursuivants in particular, is a Reduction of the exorbitant and unjustifiable Fees of the three Heralds, called, Kings of Arms, i. e. Thirty Pounds for every Grant of new, or Confirmation of old Arms, (they making no Difference) viz. Fifteen Pounds a-piece: For at present, not less than two Signers and Sealers will serve their Turn; though heretofore one was allowed to be sufficient, and his Fee but Five Pounds, and sometimes less; whilst the poor Heralds, that do the Work, must tamely submit to an Eleemosynary Benevolence.

THESE

THESE Things done, the College of Arms will again flourish, and the Underlings will EAT ----- Viands as well as their Majesties.
